Section- 2 Reading Skills

Reading skills is the ability of an individual to read, comprehend and interpret written words on a page of an article or any other reading material.

The questions will be of Multiple Choice types for comprehension/paragraph related questions.

Metal detectors emit magnetic waves. These waves go into the ground. The waves immediately change when they hit any metal. Then the device gives a beep sound. With the help of this sound, it is known that the metal is close.

First, metal detectors were meant to help miners. They were big. They were very costly. They consumed a lot of power. In spite of all, they didn't work well. People kept researching to make them better.

In a few years, the size of the metal detectors got small. They are light and available at a cheap cost. They work better too. Now, the metal detectors can help us to look for things in water and sand. Metal detectors help them find bombs.

6. When does the metal detector give a beep sound?
- a. When they emit magnetic waves
  - b. When the waves go into the ground.
  - c. When they hit any metal.
  - d. When they are active.
